

GreyNurse Human Performance Optimisation

GreyNurse Human Performance Optimisation

GreyNurse provides health and performance information for those in some of the most stressful environments on earth.

GreyNurse uses mobile, wireless and wearable technologies to enable real time monitoring and management of fatigue and stress so that actions can be taken to improve wellbeing and operational performance.

Features

- Automatic participant biometric data collection, monitoring and presentation
- Built in support for sleep pattern analysis and management
- Meal recording
- Multiple data set views and analysis supported by role authentication and filtering
- Participant centric interface to increase engagement and usage
- Alerting on vital data trends
- Customisable participant surveys
- Participant alerting on wearable periphery
- Automatic collection of environmental conditions
- Personal data security and integrity
- Public/Private cloud hosted or completely private network ICT hosting available.

Applications

- Armed Forces
- Civil enforcement agencies
- Industrial and mining sites
- High performance workplaces.

